Description, Membership and Personnel

The State Board of Accountancy is composed of five (5) resident certified public accountants engaged in the practice of public accounting. The Board is charged with the responsibility of protecting the public by enforcing Chapter 473, Florida Statutes. This responsibility is exercised through examination, licensing, registration, surveillance, investigation and enforcement proceedings. The membership of the Board for the year consisted of the following individuals:

|---|---|
| William W. McAbee, Chairman | Pensacola |
| D. B. Odom, Secretary | Lake City |
| Richard E. Darby (from August 20, 1973) | Tampa |
| Mark W. Eastland, Jr. (to August 20, 1973) | Tampa |
| Charles M. Potter (from August 20, 1973) | Orlando |
| R. Bob Smith | Miami |
| Robert F. Stonerock (to August 20, 1973) | Orlando |

The Board members are appointed by the Governor to four-year terms. There is no limit on the number of terms an individual may serve.

The Board's administrative offices are located at Suite 54, 3131 N. W. 13th Street, Gainesville. It's mailing address is Post Office Box 13475, Gainesville, 32604. Douglas H. Thompson, Jr., C.P.A., Executive Director, serves as chief administrative officer and supervises a seven member staff consisting of a Coordinator of Continuing Professional Education, a Secretary III, two Clerk Typist III, a Clerk III, a Secretary II and a Clerk Typist II.

Financial

The functions of mailing individual renewal applications, collecting individual license renewal fees, and issuing individual renewal licenses are performed by the Department of Professional and Occupational Regulation under the provisions of Section 20.30 (5), Florida Statutes. These collections are deposited directly to the Board's Operating Trust Fund. The Board retains the responsibility for collecting other fees. All collections are deposited into a Gainesville bank clearing account authorized by the Department of Administration. The account is cleared each month and a check is forwarded to the State Treasurer in accordance with the provisions of Section 18.101(1), Florida Statutes. The Board is charged ten percent (10%) of all revenue collections (nine percent (9%) to Department of Professional and Occupational Regulation and one percent (1%) to general revenue fund) pursuant to Section 215.37(4), Florida Statutes (1972), for general services received, e.g. issuance of warrants, registration renewal, etc. Fees are charged at rates prescribed by law or established by the Board through regulation under the provisions of law. Statements of Receipts, Expenditures and Fund Balance for the periods indicated follow:

The Board's largest expenditure item is the charge from the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants for preparing and grading the written, uniform CPA examination. The costs and the number of candidates examined follow:

| Examination | Number of Candidates | Cost |
|---|---|---|
| November 1972 | 1,163 | $31,228.05 |
| May 1973 | 1,145 | 30,075.46 |
| November 1973 | 1,457 | 40,620.42 |
| May 1974 | 1,446 | 39,874.67 |

The examination preparation and grading costs alone, not including administrative expenses incurred in processing applications and conducting the examination, in the 1972-73 fiscal year were twenty-six percent (26%) of total expenditures. During the same period, the Board spent $29,400 on legal, investigative and court reporter fees enforcing the Florida Accountancy Law, Chapter 473, Florida Statutes. (Section 473.131(4), Florida Statutes, provides that the Board shall appropriate and annually spend at least one-half of the fees collected from special permits for enforcement of the provisions of Chapter 473, Florida Statutes, and the Rules of the board. Collections for special permits in 1972-73 totaled $27,530.00.)

Programs and Workload Measures

The Board is responsible for regulating the practice of public accounting for the protection of the public. This includes the regulation of those who desire to and who practice public accounting in the State of Florida by: (1) enforcing qualifications for entry, e.g. college graduate, CPA examination, one-year experience and/or additional one-year accounting course and issuance of CPA certificates; and (2) regulating those licensed to practice, e.g. annual registration, reestablishment of professional knowledge and competency, investigations and formal disciplinary proceedings. It also includes preventing those not qualified to practice public accounting from holding out as being so qualified or practicing in the State of Florida. Workload measures follow:

| Measures | 1972-73 | 1973-74 |
|---|---|---|
| Number of Board Meetings (days) | 12 | 17 |
| Number of Certified Public Accountants Registered | 3,858 | 4,586 |
| CPA Examination: | | |
| New Applications | 934 | 1,105 |
| Extended Applications | 1,660 | 1,985 |

| Measures | 1972-73 | | 1973-74 | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| New Applicants Examined | 694 | | 970 | |
| Extended Applicants Examined | 1,515 | | 1,933 | |
| New Applicants Passed | 80 | | 146 | |
| Extended Applicants Passed | 393 | | 450 | |
| New Certificates Issued: | | | | |
| Regular | 408 | | 582 | |
| Reciprocal | 94 | | 177 | |
| Special Permits Issued | 2,753 | | 2,067 | |
| Enforcement Proceedings: | | | | |
| Investigations | 32 | | 53 | |
| Formal Complaints | 11 | | 8 | |
| Disciplinary Actions Taken: | | | | |
| Censures and Probations | 3 | | 6 | |
| Suspensions | 32 | (3) | 44 | (1 |
| Revocations | 5 | | 12 | (2 |

(1) Thirty-four (34) for failure to pay annual registration fees
(2) Ten (10) reciprocals for nonresidence or nonpublic practice.
(3) Thirty (30) for failure to pay annual registration fees.

As can be seen from review of the above, the Board's activities are numerous and increasing. It is expected that enforcement efforts will be expanded.

An investigation of recent accountants' reports and financial statements included in intra-state prospectuses filed with the Florida Division of Securities and other investigations demonstrate that many certified public accountants have not striven to improve their competence nor observed the profession's more recently definitive technical standards. These certified public accountants were not familiar enough with, nor did they sufficiently understand, generally accepted auditing standards or generally accepted accounting principles. The Board will use all legal means to seek out, investigate and appropriately discipline certified public accountants who do not meet and follow the standards and principles of the profession since these certified public accountants both discredit the profession and act contrary to the public interest.

New and/or Amended Regulations

All regulations must be, and are, adopted pursuant to statutory authority. During the 1973-74 fiscal year, the Board's primary efforts have been with respect to preparing and adopting regulations necessary to implement Section 473.111(4), Florida Statutes (1973) requiring all practitioners to periodically reestablish professional knowledge and competency to practice public accounting. All rules have been officially adopted in accordance with the Florida Administrative Code, e.g. public notice and/or public hearing, and have been filed with the Secretary of State to become Chapter 21A-13 of the Florida Administrative Code. Another major effort has been, in conjunction with a committee of the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants, a review of Chapters 21A-1, 21A-2, 21A-3, 21A-4 and 21A-5. It is expected that this review will result in: (1) a reclassification of regulations to more closely follow the Florida Accountancy Law; (2) a chapter defining such terms as public accounting, audit, examination, technical standards, opinion, etc., and certain amendments similar to the Restated Code of Professional Ethics of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Programs and Workload Measures

The Board is responsible for regulating the practice of public accounting for the protection of the public. This includes the regulation of those who desire to and who practice public accounting in the State of Florida by: (1) enforcing qualifications for entry, e.g. college graduate, CPA examination, one-year experience and/or additional one-year accounting course and issuance of CPA certificates; and (2) regulating those licensed to practice, e.g. annual registration, reestablishment of professional knowledge and competency, investigations and formal disciplinary proceedings. It also includes preventing those not qualified to practice public accounting from holding out as being so qualified or practicing in the State of Florida Comparative workload measures follow:

| Measures | 1972-73 | 1973-74 | 1974-75 | Percent of Increase |

(1) Thirty-four (34) for failure to pay annual registration fees.
(2) Ten (10) reciprocals for nonresidence or nonpublic practice.
(3) Thirty (30) for failure to pay annual registration fees.
(4) This figure has been adjusted due to the fact the Board now issues one (1) permit per engagement, however, the fee is still $10 per person. There were 555 permits issued during 1974-75.
(5) Includes one (1)-disciplinary, seven (7)-by request, sixty-one (61)-nonpayment of fee.

As can be seen for review of the above, the Board's activities are numerous and increasing. It is expected that enforcement efforts will be expanded. The Board initiated a new program this year - the CPA Examination Critique. This enables CPA examination candidates to obtain copies of their own answer papers as well as copies of the unofficial AICPA questions and answers. They then attend a review session where a qualified instructor discusses the unofficial answers, as well as other aspects of the examination.

Investigations made during the year demonstrate that many certified public accountants have not striven to improve their competence nor observed the profession's more recently definitive technical standards. These certified public accountants were not familiar enough with, nor did they sufficiently understand, generally accepted auditing standards or generally accepted accounting principles. The Board will use all legal means to seek out, investigate and appropriately discipline certified public accountants who do not meet and follow the standards and principles of the profession since these certified public accountants both discredit the profession and act contrary to the public interest.

New and/or Amended Regulations

All regulations must be, and are, adopted pursuant to statutory authority. During the 1974-75 fiscal year the Board's primary efforts have been with respect to redrafting rules, Chapters 21A-1 - 7, the purpose of which was to conform Board rules with the AICPA Restated Code except where conflict existed with Florida Accountancy Law. The Board also redefined a major in accounting, the additional one-year accounting course acceptable in lieu of one-year of employment, amended certain continuing education rules, set forth the guidelines for the preparation of financial statements by persons other than practitioners, and revised the guidelines regarding certificates including special permits and reciprocal certificates. In addition, the Board adopted Chapter 21A-16 to implement the Foreign Licensure Bill.

FOREWORD

The profession of public accountancy in Florida is regulated by the provisions of law found in Chapter 473, Florida Statutes, a statement of which will be found hereinafter. This chapter is a compilation of Acts more specifically described as Chapter 15637, Acts of 1931, together with certain amendments and additions embodied in Chapters 17265, 17266 and 17267, Acts of 1935; and Chapters 24164, Acts of 1947. These in turn were an outgrowth of the original regulatory legislation known as Chapter 12290, Acts of 1927, under the provisions of which the then practicing accountant might apply for and receive a Certificate of Authority to thereafter practice as a Public Accountant. This Act also provided that the issuance of Certificates of Authority should cease after January 1, 1928. This provision was designed with the intention that henceforth entrance into the profession would be limited to successful candidates in the examination for certified public accountant.

Chapter 26483, Florida Laws 1951, Amended Section 473.08 and repealed Section 473.11; Chapter 26869, Florida Laws 1951, amended Section 473.21; Chapter 473, Florida Laws 1953, amended Section 473.09; Chapter 473, Florida Laws 1957, amended Section 473.29.

Under the provisions of law cited no person may practice in Florida as a Certified Public Accountant, or as a Public Accountant, unless such a person shall be the holder of a certificate, as a Certified Public Accountant or as a Public Accountant, in full force and effect, issued by the State Board of Accountancy. Both Certified Public Accountants and Public Accountants are governed by the same laws and practice under the same rules and regulations and standards of professional conduct and are subject to the same penalties of suspension and revocation of certificates. The Certified Public Accountant received his certificate as a result of an examination or by waiver of such examination. The Public Accountant received his certificate of authority by furnishing satisfactory evidence that he was in 1927 maintaining an office for the practice of public accountancy within the State of Florida, or was similarly employed at that time.

All Certified Public Accountants and Public Accountants are required to register annually with the State Board of Accountancy. Failure to register as required subjects such practitioner to suspension of his right to practice.

473.181 NAME OF FLORIDA PRACTITIONER; WHERE USE OF NAME PROHIBITED.—

(1) A Florida practitioner practicing as a sole practitioner must use his own name as identification except as provided under subsection (3) relating to use of the name of a deceased partner.

(2) Two or more Florida practitioners practicing as a partnership or professional corporation must use the name or names of living, retired, or deceased Florida practitioners who are or were partners or stockholders of such organization as identification. Any living Florida practitioner whose name is included must be an active partner or stockholder of the partnership or professional corporation or a partner or stockholder retired from the practice of public accounting.

(3) The name of a deceased partner or stockholder may be continued in the name of a partnership or professional corporation if no imposition or deception is practiced through this use.

(4) The term "and company," or "and associate(s)" may not be used in a partnership name unless such term represents at least one living partner whose name is not otherwise included. The use of any other term or assumed name is prohibited.

(5) Nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit a Florida practitioner from complying with the laws of the state as to identification if operating as a professional corporation.

(6) Nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit a Florida practitioner from adopting the same name as an out-of-state practitioner as provided in section 473.241. The use of any additional name by such Florida practitioner is prohibited.

(7) No Florida practitioner or out-of-state practitioner practicing public accounting in Florida under section 473.131 or section 473.241, shall use or permit the use of the name in the state of such Florida practitioner or out-of-state practitioner or any part thereof, in any way or manner likely to cause a reasonable man to believe that the Florida practitioner or out-of-state practitioner is associated with a business, firm, or company which is not engaged in the practice of public accounting and subject to regulation by the board.

History.—Sec. 19, ch. 69-36.

473.191 RECORDS, ETC., TO REMAIN PROPERTY OF ACCOUNTANT.—

All statements, records, schedules and memoranda made by a certified public accountant or a public accountant or by the employee or employees of a certified public accountant or of a public accountant, incident to, or in the course of, professional service to a client, except the reports submitted by such certified public accountant or public accountant to the client, shall be and remain the property of such certified public accountant or public accountant in the absence of an express agreement between the certified public accountant or public accountant and the client.

(a) The original certificate was secured as the result of a written examination which in the judgment of the board was the equivalent of the examination given by the board at the time the applicant passed such written examination; provided, however, that if such written examination did not include the subject of ethics the application shall not be denied for that reason. In any event, the board shall require all applicants to take and pass the same current open book examination in ethics given to applicants for the written examination in the state before issuance of a reciprocal certificate;

(b) The applicant meets all the requirements in effect, at the time of the application, for applicants to take the Florida examination;

(c) The applicant is a resident of and domiciled in the state;

(d) The applicant intends to enter into the full-time, year-round practice of public accounting in the state; and

(e) The board is otherwise fully satisfied as to the moral and technical fitness of the applicant.

(2) Failure of the holder of a certificate issued under this section to be domiciled in and practice public accounting on a substantially full-time basis in the state for a continuous period of three years immediately after issuance of such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the lack of the requisite intent and sufficient grounds for revocation of the reciprocal certificate issued by the board.

(3) The suspension or revocation, for misconduct, of a certificate as certified public accountant issued by another state or political subdivision of the United States, which certificate was used as the basis for issuance of a certificate under this section, shall be grounds for revocation of the reciprocal certificate issued by the board.

(4) Each applicant shall remit to the board at the time of filing such application such sum of money as the board from time to time may prescribe. If such application is withdrawn or denied, such sum of money shall not be returned to the applicant.

473.22 CARD, SIGN, ETC., AS EVIDENCE AGAINST ACCOUNTANT.—

The display of a card, sign, advertisement or directory listing, or the issuance of a letterhead, bearing a person's name as a practitioner of public accounting, shall be prima facie evidence in any hearing or prosecution against such person that the person whose name is so carried thereon is responsible for the same and that he is announcing himself thereby to be engaged in the practice of public accounting. In any hearing or prosecution under this chapter, the proof of a single act prohibited by law shall be sufficient, without proving a general course of conduct.

473.241 FLORIDA PRACTITIONER AS AGENT OR REPRESENTATIVE OF OUT-OF-STATE PRACTITIONER; USE OF SAME NAME; RESPONSIBILITY; SERVICE OF PROCESS ON OUT-OF-STATE PRACTITIONER.—

(1) A Florida practitioner may practice under the same name as an out-of-state practitioner if the Florida practitioner maintains an office on a full-time basis and acts as agent for the out-of-state practitioner. No such Florida practitioner may act as agent for more than one out-of-state practitioner or association of out-of-state practitioners practicing under substantially the same name, and no out-of-state practitioner may have as his agent more than one such Florida practitioner. Every such Florida practitioner who acts as agent for an out-of-state practitioner must hold a certificate in good standing to practice as a certified public accountant issued by the board and be a resident of and domiciled in the state. All public accounting services performed in the state must be performed by such Florida practitioner, except that an out-of-state practitioner may perform public accounting services in the state under the provisions of section 473.131. No such Florida practitioner may employ a partner or stockholder of an out-of-state practitioner for which the Florida practitioner acts as agent in this state unless such person has applied for a reciprocal certificate to practice public accounting in the state under section 473.201 or has filed an application to take the examination under section 473.09. No such Florida practitioner may retain in his employ a partner or stockholder of an out-of-state practitioner for which such Florida practitioner acts as agent if such person's application for a reciprocal certificate to practice public accounting in the state has been withdrawn or finally denied by the board, or if such person has not passed the examination within eighteen months after the filing of such application.

(2) By accepting the privilege granted by this section, both the out-of-state practitioner and the Florida practitioner shall be fully responsible for the public accounting services performed in this state by the other and for complying with the requirements of this law and the rules of the board. The out-of-state practitioner and the Florida practitioner shall signify their acceptance of this responsibility on forms to be provided by and filed with the board, and the submission of such forms to the board shall signify the out-of-state practitioner's consent to the appointment of the Florida practitioner as his agent for the service of process in this state.

(3) All out-of-state practitioners who have been represented by a representative, agent, or manager under the provisions of former section 473.16 shall be subject to the provisions of this section. However, if this section is held to be invalid so as to impair the rights heretofore enjoyed by such practitioners under former section 473.16, such practitioners may continue to be represented by a representative, agent or manager as provided in former section 473.16.

(4) Nothing in this law shall be deemed or construed to prohibit an out-of-state practitioner from employing a Florida practitioner to perform public accounting services in the state.

History.—Sec. 16, ch. 15637, 1931; CGL 1936 Supp. 3935 (16); sec. 23, ch. 69-36.
Note.—See former sec. 473.16.

473.251 SUSPENSION OR REVOCATION OF CERTIFICATES; FORFEITURE OF PRIVILEGE OF SPECIAL PERMITS AND AGENCY RELATIONSHIPS; GROUNDS.—

(1) The certificate of any person to practice as a certified public accountant or as a public accountant may be revoked or suspended for a definite period not to exceed five years when it shall appear to the board:

(a) That such person has been convicted of a felony; or

(b) That the certificate was obtained by fraud or deceit; or

(c) That such person has been guilty of any fraudulant, wrongful, or unlawful act while holding such certificate; or

(d) That such person was guilty of a fraudulent, wrongful, or unlawful act prior to the issuance of the certificate of which the board did not have knowledge at the time of the issuance of the certificate; or

(e) That any reason exists which would have justified the refusal of the certificate in the first instance; or

(f) That the holder of a certificate has committed any act which renders him unfit to associate with the fair and honorable members of the public accounting profession; or

(g) That such person was guilty of a violation of the provisions of this chapter or of any of the rules of the board; or

(h) That such person has been convicted under section 473.31.

(2) Every out-of-state practitioner who performs public accounting services in the state under a special permit issued by the board or for which a special permit should have been obtained as provided in section 473.131 and who, in connection with the engagement for which such special permit was issued or should have been obtained, knowingly engages in activities which, if he were the holder of a certificate issued by the board, would be cause for the board to suspend or revoke such certificate, shall have such special permit revoked and shall forfeit the privilege of receiving special permits for a period of up to one year for the first offense, for one year for the second offense committed within a period of two years from the date of the first offense, and permanently for the third offense committed within a period of five years from the date of the first offense.

(3) Every Florida practitioner who acts as agent for an out-of-state practitioner, as provided in section 473.241, shall be responsible for the acts of the out-of-state practitioner related to the practice of public accounting in Florida, regardless of where committed, and the board may suspend or revoke the certificate of any or all of the partners or stockholders of the Florida practitioner if the out-of-state practitioner knowingly engages in activities related to the practice of public accounting in the state, which, if he were the holder of a certificate issued by the board, would be cause for the board to suspend or revoke such certificate.

(4) Every out-of-state practitioner who has an agent in the state, as provided in section 473.241, and who knowingly engages in activities in connection with the practice of public accounting in the state which, if he were the holder of a certificate issued by the board, would be cause for the board to suspend or revoke such certificate shall forfeit the privilege of having an agent in the state for a period of up to one year for the first offense, for one year for the second offense committed within a period of two years from the date of the first offense, and permanently for the third offense committed within a period of five years from the date of the first offense.

(5) If a Florida practitioner, as agent for an out-of-state practitioner, as provided in section 473.241, or an out-of-state practitioner who has as an agent a Florida practitioner, as provided in section 473.241, knowingly violates the provisions of this law or the rules of the board, the board may prohibit the Florida practitioner from acting as such agent for an out-of-state practitioner for a period of up to one year for the first offense, for one year for the second offense committed within a period of two years from the date of the first offense, and permanently for the third offense committed within a period of five years from the date of the first offense.

(6) The penalties provided in subsections (2), (3), (4) and (5) shall apply to individual certified public accountants, public accountants, and chartered accountants. The board may in its discretion invoke such penalties against Florida and out-of-state partnerships or professional corporations, but only upon a finding that they directed unlawful activities or were negligent in supervising such activities of either their partners, stockholders, or employees.

History.—Sec. 22, ch. 15637, 1931; CGL 1936 Supp. 3935 (21); sec. 24, ch. 69-36.

Note.—See former sec. 473.20.

cf.—Sec. 1.01 Defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

473.261 PROCEDURE FOR ENFORCEMENT.—

(1) All penalties provided by this chapter to be invoked by the board shall be invoked only after a hearing before the board and only by the affirmative vote of at least four members of the board. The board shall adopt rules of procedure not inconsistent with chapter 120 for the conduct of hearings; however, where a practitioner has been declared to be mentally incompetent or insane by a court of competent jurisdiction, his certificate or permit shall thereupon stand suspended until the practitioner shall thereafter be adjudicated mentally competent or sane by a court of competent jurisdiction, then he may apply to the board for reinstatement and the board shall then reinstate the suspended certificate or permit upon finding the holder to be qualified to practice.

(2) The board shall have the power to conduct investigations of possible violations of this chapter or the rules of the board to determine whether there is probable cause to take disciplinary action against the holder of a certificate issued by the board or against an out-of-state practitioner as provided in section 473.241(2) and (4). In aid of such investigations, the board shall have the power to issue subpoenas to compel witnesses to testify and to produce evidence.

(3) The board may designate investigating officers to conduct investigations who shall be competent by reason of training or experience. Upon completion of his investigation, the investigating officer shall file a report with the board. The board shall review the report and may find probable cause or no probable cause or may return the report to the investigating officer for further investigation.

(4) If the board finds probable cause, it shall direct that a complaint be filed setting forth the particular act or acts of conduct for which the person or practitioner is sought to be disciplined.

(5) When any such complaint shall be filed, a copy thereof shall be mailed, under the direction of the board, by registered mail, to the person or practitioner against whom such complaint is made, at the address of such person or practitioner as shown upon the records of the board; and with such copy of the complaint there shall be transmitted a notice that a hearing thereon will be had before the board at a time and place to be specified, not less than thirty days after the mailing of such notice. The board may retain counsel to advise it and additional counsel to prosecute the complaint.

(6) If the complaint is sustained, the board may enter an order invoking the appropriate penalty, as provided by this section, or may censure or place on probation the person or practitioner found guilty of the violation. If the complaint is not sustained, an order shall be entered by the board exonerating the person or practitioner involved.

History.—Sec. 25, ch. 69-36.

473.271 CONTINGENT FEES.—

Public accounting services shall not be rendered or offered in the state for a fee which shall be contingent upon the findings or results of such service. However, this section does not apply to services involving federal, state, or other taxes in which the findings are those of the tax authorities and not those of the accountant. Fees to be fixed by courts or other public authorities, which are therefore of an indeterminate amount at the time an engagement is undertaken, are not regarded as contingent fees within the meaning of this section.

History.—Sec. 26, ch. 69-36.

473.281 EMPLOYING FELONS, ETC.—

Except at the discretion and by permission of the board no Florida practitioner shall knowingly employ anyone or have anyone in his employ whose certificate or permit has been revoked or suspended (other than for failure to reestablish professional knowledge and competency as required by law or for non-payment of registration fees) and not reinstated by the board, or a board of any other jurisdiction, or who has been disbarred, and not reinstated, by the treasury department, or who has been convicted of a felony and whose civil rights have not been restored.

History.—Sec. 27, ch. 69-36.

473.291 SOLICITATION.—

A Florida practitioner or an out-of-state practitioner shall not in this state, or outside this state when the effect is to accomplish within this state that which is prohibited within this state, directly or indirectly solicit public accounting engagements to be performed in the state:

(1) By means of circulars or advertisements, by unsolicited personal communication or interview, or by any other means;

(2) By directly or indirectly sponsoring social affairs for the promotion of public accounting engagements in this state, except for existing clients and firm personnel;

(3) By distributing publications or newsletters except to firm personnel, existing clients, other Florida practitioners, out-of-state practitioners, and other persons who have without solicitation requested such publications or newsletters;

(4) By publicly advertising professional attainments or services; or

(5) By holding memberships in associations of specific industries or by regularly attending meetings of such associations. However, in the case of out-of-state practitioners, this subsection refers only to associations domiciled in Florida.

History.—Sec. 28, ch. 69-36.

473.30 BIDDING.—

(1) A Florida practitioner or out-of-state practitioner shall not make a competitive bid for the performance of public accounting services in this state. No agent, as provided in section 473.241, shall perform public accounting services in this state if the contract for such services was obtained by competitive bid. No special permit shall be issued for the performance of public accounting services if the contract for such services was obtained by competitive bid.

(2) The board shall adopt rules and regulations for the interpretation and enforcement of this section.

History.—Sec. 29, ch. 69-36.

473.31 CERTAIN VIOLATIONS MISDEMEANORS.—Any person who shall knowingly and willfully violate any of the provisions of subsequent 473.021 or 473.171 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in section 775.082 or section 775.083.

History.—Sec. 18, ch. 15637, 1931; CGL 1936 Supp. 7875 (1); sec. 7, ch. 22858, 1945; sec. 30, ch. 69-36; sec. 416, ch. 71-136.

21A-1.04 Declaratory Statements

21A-1.01 Purpose of Rules

The public interest warrants the licensing and regulation of persons professing expertise in accounting who perform professional accounting services including the expression of opinions on financial statements and other information upon which the public necessarily relies. A distinguishing mark of a professional is his acceptance of responsibility to the public. The reliance of the public, the government and the business community on sound financial reporting and advice on business affairs and the importance of these matters to the economic and social aspects of life impose particular obligations on certified public accountants. A person who enters the profession of accountancy is assumed to accept an obligation to uphold its principles, to work for increased knowledge and to abide by Chapter 473, Florida Statutes (the Florida Accountancy Act), and rules promulgated by the State Board of Accountancy pursuant to and in accordance with authority granted by Chapter 473, F.S. The purpose of these rules is to promote and protect the public interest by implementing Chapter 473, Florida Statutes, to better define and more clearly specify portions thereof for the guidance of certified public accountants and those persons who rely upon the services of certified public accountants.

Chapter 3

INDEPENDENCE, INTEGRITY AND OBJECTIVITY

21A-3.01 Independence
21A-3.02 Integrity and Objectivity

21A-3.01 Independence

(1) A practitioner shall not express an opinion on financial statements of an enterprise unless he and his firm are independent with respect to such enterprise. Independence will be considered to be impaired if, for example:

A. During the period of his professional engagement, or at the time of expressing his opinion, he or his firm:

1. Had or was committed to acquire any direct financial interest or material indirect financial interest in the enterprise; or

2. Had any joint closely held business investment with the enterprise or any officer, director or principal stockholder thereof which was material in relation to his or his firm's net worth; or

3. Had any loan to or from the enterprise or any officer, director or principal stockholder thereof. This latter proscription does not apply to the following loans from a financial institution when made under normal lending procedures, terms and requirements:

(a) Loans obtained by a practitioner or his firm which are not material in relation to the net worth of such borrower.

(c) Other secured loans, except loans guaranteed by a practitioner's firm which are otherwise unsecured.

B. During the period covered by the financial statements, during the period of the professional engagement, or at the time of expressing an opinion, he or his firm:

1. Was connected with the enterprise as a promoter, underwriter or voting trustee, a director or officer or in any capacity equivalent to that of a member of management or of an employee, except that a practitioner will not be considered lacking in independence if he serves as a director of a charitable, religious, civic or other similar type of nonprofit organization whose board is large and representative of the community's leadership so long as he does not perform or give advice on management functions and the board itself is sufficiently large that a third party would conclude that his membership was honorary.

2. Was a trustee of any trust or executor or administrator of any estate if such trust or estate had a direct or material indirect financial interest in the enterprise; or was a trustee for any pension or prifit-sharing trust of the enterprise.

The above examples are not intended to be all-inclusive.

(2) Directorships. Practitioners are often asked to lend the prestige of their name as a director of a charitable, religious, civic or other similar type of nonprofit organization whose board is large and representative of the community's leadership. An auditor who permits his name to be used in this manner would not be considered lacking in independence under Rule 3.01(1) so long as he does not perform or give advice on management functions, and the board itself is sufficiently large that a third party would conclude that his membership was honorary.

(3) Retired Partners and Firm Independence. A retired partner having a relationship of a type specified in Rule 3.01(1) with a client of his former firm would not be considered as impairing the firm's independence with respect to the client provided that he is no longer active in the firm, that the fees received from such client do not have a material effect on his retirement benefits and that he is not held out as being associated with his former partnership.

(4) Accounting Services. Practitioners are sometimes asked to provide manual or automated bookkeeping or data processing services to clients who are of insufficient size to employ an adequate internal accounting staff. Computer systems design and programming assistance are also rendered by practitioners either in conjunction with data processing services or as a separate engagement. Practitioners who perform such services are engaged in the practice of public accounting and are subject to the accountancy law and rules.

On occasion practitioners also rent "block time" on their computers to their clients but are not involved in the processing of transactions or maintaining the client's accounting records. In such cases the sale of block time constitutes a business rather than a professional relationship and must be considered together with all other relationships between the practitioner and his client to determine if their aggregate impact is such as to impair independence.

When a practitioner performs manual or automated bookkeeping services, concern may arise whether the performance of such services would impair his audit independence—that the performance of such basic accounting services would cause his audit to be lacking in a review of mechanical accuracy or that the accounting judgments made by him in recording transactions may somehow be less reliable than if made by him in connection with the subsequent audit.

Practitioners are skilled in, and well accustomed to, applying techniques to control mechanical accuracy, and the performance of the record-keeping function should have no effect on application of such techniques. With regard to accounting judgments, if third parties have confidence in a practitioner's judgment in performing an audit, it is difficult to contend that they would have less confidence where the same judgment is applied in the process of preparing the underlying accounting records.

Nevertheless, a practitioner performing accounting services for an audit client must meet the following requirements to retain the appearance that he is not virtually an employee and therefore lacking in independence in the eyes of a reasonable observer.

(a) The CPA must not have any relationships with the client or any conflict of interest which would impair his integrity and objectivity.

(b) The client must accept the responsibility for the financial statements as his own. A small client may not have anyone in his employ to maintain accounting records and may rely on the CPA for this purpose. Nevertheless, the client must be sufficiently knowledgeable of the enterprise's activities and financial condition and the applicable accounting principles so that he can reasonably accept such responsibility, including, specifically, fairness of valuation and presentation and adequacy of disclosure. When necessary, the CPA must discuss accounting matters with the client to be sure that the client has the required degree of understanding.

(c) The CPA must not assume the role of employee or of management conducting the operations of an enterprise. For example, the CPA shall not consummate transactions, have custody of assets or exercise authority on behalf of the client. The client must prepare the source documents on all transactions in sufficient detail to identify clearly the nature and amount of such transactions and maintain an accounting control over data processed by the CPA such as control totals and document counts. The CPA should not make changes in such basic data without the concurrence of the client.

(d. The CPA, in making an examination of financial statements prepared from books and records which he has maintained completely or in part, must conform to generally accepted auditing standards. The fact that he has processed or maintained certain records does not eliminate the need to make sufficient audit tests.

(5) Effect on Family Relationships on Independence. Rule 3.01(1) proscribes relationships which impair a practitioner's independence through direct financial interests, material indirect financial interests, or other involvements. Relationships which arise through family bloodlines and marriage give rise to circumstances that may impair a practitioners independence.

(a) Financial and business relationships ascribed to the practitioner.

It is well accepted that the independence of a practitioner may be impaired by the financial interests and business relationships of the practitioner's spouse, dependent children, or any relative living in a common household with or supported by the practitioner. The financial interests or business relationships of such family, dependents or relatives in a practitioner's client are ascribed to the practitioner; in such circumstances the independence of the practitioner or his firm would be impaired under Rule 3.01(1).

(b) Financial and business relationships that may be ascribed to the practitioner.

Close Kin.

Family relationships may also involve other circumstances in which the appearance of independence is lacking. However, it is not reasonable to assume that all kinships, per se, will impair the appearance of independence since some kinships are too remote. The following guidelines to the effect of kinship on the appearance of independence have evolved over the years:

A presumption that the appearance of independence is impaired arises from a significant financial interest, investment, or business relationship by the following close kin in a practitioner's client: Non-dependent children, brothers and sisters, grandparents, parents, parents-in-law, and the respective spouses of any of the foregoing.

If the close kin's financial interest in a practitioner's client is material in relationship to the kin's net worth, a third party could conclude that the practitioner's objectivity is impaired with respect to the client since the kinship is so close. In addition, financial interests held by close kin may result in an indirect financial interest being ascribed to the practitioner.

The presumption that the appearance of independence is impaired would also prevail where a close kin has an important role or responsible executive position (e.g., director, chief executive or financial officer) with a client.

Geographical separation from the close kin and infrequent contact may mitigate such impairment except with respect to:

a. a partner working on the engagement or located in the office responsible for the engagement,

b. a partner in the same office or one who maintained closed personal relationships with partners working on the engagement,

c. a partner who, as a result of his administrative or advisory positions, is involved in the engagement, or

d. a staff member participating on the engagement or located in the office responsible for the engagement.

If a practitioner does not or could not reasonably be expected to have knowledge of the financial interests, investments and business relationships of his close kin, such lack of knowledge would preclude an impairment of objectivity and appearance of independence.

(6) Financial and business relationships that are not normally ascribed to the practitioner.

Remote Kin.

A presumption that the appearance of independence is impaired would not normally arise from the financial interests and business relationships of remote kin; uncles, aunts, cousins, nephews, nieces, other in-laws, and other kin who are not close.

The financial interests and business relationships of these remote kin are not considered either direct or indirect interests ascribed to the practitioner. However, the presumption of no impairment with remote kin would be negated if other factors indicating a closeness exist, such as living in the same household with the practitioner, having financial ties, or jointly participating in other business enterprises.

Summary.

Practitioners must be aware that it is impossible to enumerate all circumstances wherein the appearance of independence might be questioned by third parties because of family relationships. In situations involving the assessment of relationships with both close and remote kin, practitioners must consider whether geographical proximity, strength of personal and other business relationships and other factors—when viewed together with financial interests in question—would lead a reasonable observer to conclude that the specified relationships pose an unacceptable threat to the practitioner's objectivity and appearance of independence.

(7) Meaning of the term "Normal Lending Procedures, Terms and Requirements". Rule 3.01(1)A.3. prohibits loans to a practitioner from his client except for certain specified kinds of loans from a client financial institution when made under "normal lending procedures, terms and requirements." The practitioner would meet the criteria prescribed by this rule of the procedures, terms and requirements relating to his loan are reasonably comparable to those relating to other loans of a similar character committed to other borrowers during the period in which the loan to the practitioner is committed. Accordingly, in making such comparison and in evaluating whether his loan was made under "normal lending procedures, terms and requirements", the practitioner should consider all the circumstances under which the loan was granted including:

(a) The amount of the loan in relation to the value of the collateral pledged as security and the credit standing of the practitioner or his firm.

(c) Interest rate, including "points."

(d) Requirement to pay closing costs in accordance with the lender's usual practice.

(e) General availability of such loans to the public.

Related prohibitions (which may be more restrictive) are prescribed by certain state and federal agencies having regulatory authority over such financial institutions.

Chapter 4

COMPETENCE AND TECHNICAL STANDARDS

21A-4.01 Competence
21A-4.02 Auditing Standards
21A-4.03 Accounting Principles
21A-4.04 Forecasts

21A-4.01 Competence

A practitioner shall not undertake any engagement in the practice of public accounting which he or his firm cannot reasonably expect to complete with professional competence.

Competence. A practitioner who accepts a professional engagement implies that he has the necessary competence to complete the engagement according to professional standards, applying his knowledge and skill with reasonable care and diligence, but he does not assume a responsibility for infallibility of knowledge or judgment.

Competence in the practice of public accounting involves both the technical qualifications of the practitioner and his staff and his ability to supervise and evaluate the quality of the work performed. Competence relates both to knowledge of the profession's standards, techniques and the technical subject matter involved, and to the capability to exercise sound judgment in applying such knowledge to each engagement.

The practitioner may have the knowledge required to complete an engagement professionally before undertaking it. In many cases, however, additional research or consultation with others may be necessary during the course of the engagement. This does not ordinarily represent a lack of competence, but rather is a normal part of the professional conduct of an engagement.

General Authority 473.04, F.S.; Law implemented, interpreted or made specific 473.04, F.S.

21A-4.02 Auditing Standards

A practitioner shall not permit his name to be associated with financial statements in such a manner as to imply that he is acting as an independent certified public accountant or public accountant unless he has complied with the applicable generally accepted auditing standards. Statements on Auditing Standards are, for purposes of this rule, deemed and construed to be interpretations of generally accepted auditing standards, and departures from such statements must be justified by those who do not follow them.

Unaudited Financial Statements. Rule 4.02 does not preclude a practitioner from associating himself with the unaudited financial statements of his clients. The Rule states in part that "a practitioner shall not permit his name to be associated with financial statements in such a manner as to imply that he is acting as an independent certified public accountant unless he has complied with the applicable generally accepted auditing standards."

In applying this provision to situations in which a practitioner's name is associated with unaudited financial statements, it is necessary to recognize that the standards were specifically written to apply to audited financial statements. The fourth reporting standard, however, was made sufficiently broad to be applicable to unaudited financial statements as well.

The fourth reporting standard states in part:

". . . In all cases where an auditor's name is associated with financial statements, the report should contain a clear-cut indication of the character of the auditor's examination, if any, and the degree of responsibility he is taking."

Those sections of Statements on Auditing Standards and related guides which deal with unaudited financial statements provide guidance to practitioners associated with such statements.

General Authority 473.04, F.S.; Law implemented, interpreted or made specific 473.04, F.S.

21A-4.03 Accounting Principles

A practitioner shall not express an opinion that financial statements are presented in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles if such statements contain any departure from any such principle which has a material effect on the statements taken as a whole, unless he can demonstrate that due to unusual circumstances the financial statements would otherwise have been misleading. In such cases his report must describe the departure, the approximate effects thereof, if practicable, and the reasons why compliance with the principle would result in a misleading statement.

Departures from Established Accounting Principles. Rule 21A-4.03 was adopted to require compliance with accounting principles defined by Rule 21A-2.08. There is a strong presumption that adherence to officially established accounting principles would in nearly all instances result in financial statements that are not misleading.

However, in the establishment of accounting principles it is difficult to anticipate all of the circumstances to which such principles might be applied. This rule therefore recognizes that upon occasion there may be unusual circumstances where the literal application of pronouncements on accounting principles would have the effect of rendering financial statements misleading. In such cases, the proper accounting treatment is that which will render the financial statements not misleading.

The question of what constitutes unusual circumstances as referred to in Rule 21A-4.03 is a matter of professional judgment involving the ability to support the position that adherence to a promulgated principle would be regarded generally by reasonable men as producing a misleading result.

Examples of events which may justify departures from a principle are new legislation or the evolution of a new form of business transaction. An unusual degree of materiality of the existence of conflicting industry practices are examples of circumstances which would not ordinarily be regarded as unusual in the context of Rule 21A-4.03.

General Authority 473.04, F.S.; Law implemented, interpreted or made specific 473.04, F.S.

21A-4.04 Forecasts

A practitioner shall not permit his name to be used in conjunction with any forecast of future transactions in a manner which may lead to the belief that he vouches for the achievability of the forecast.

Forecasts. Rule 21A-4.04 does not prohibit a practitioner from preparing, or assisting a client in the preparation of, forecasts of the results of future transactions. When a practitioner's name is associated with such forecasts, there shall be the presumption that such data may be used by parties other than the client. Therefore, full disclosure must be made of the sources of the information used and the major assumptions made in the preparation of the statements and analyses, the character of the work performed by the practitioner, and the degree of the responsibility he is taking.

Chapter 5

RESPONSIBILITY TO CLIENTS

21A-5.01 Confidential Client Information
21A-5.02 Contingent Fees

21A-5.01 Confidential Client Information

A practitioner shall not disclose any confidential information obtained in the course of a professional engagement except with the consent of the client. This rule shall not be construed to relieve a practitioner of his obligation under Rules 21A-4.02 and 4.03 or to contravene or contradict any of the provisions of Section 473.141, F.S.

General Authority 473.04 F.S.; Law Implemented 473.04 F.S., 473.141 F.S.

21A-5.02 Contingent Fees

Professional services shall not be offered or rendered under an arrangement whereby no fee will be charged unless a specified finding or result is attained, or where the fee is otherwise contingent upon the findings or results of such services. However, a practitioner's fees may vary depending, for example, on the complexity of the service rendered. Fees are not regarded as being contingent if fixed by courts or other public authorities or, in tax matters, if determined based on the results of judicial proceedings or the findings of governmental agencies.

Chapter 6

RESPONSIBILITIES TO COLLEAGUES

21A-6.01 Encroachment
21A-6.02 (Not Used)

21A-6.01 Encroachment

1. A practitioner shall not endeavor to provide a person or entity with a professional service which is currently provided by another practitioner. However, where a practitioner is required to express an opinion on combined or consolidated financial statements which include a subsidiary, branch or other component audited by another certified public accountant, public accountant, or firm thereof, he may insist on auditing any such component which in his judgment is necessary to warrant the expression of his opinion.

2. A practitioner may respond to any request for a proposal to provide services and may provide services to those requesting same. Where the same service has been or is being performed by another practitioner, the responding practitioner must obtain written communication from the prospective client to either the predecessor or the responding practitioner evidencing termination of the predecessor practitioner prior to proposing a basis of fee as defined by Rule 21A-2.02.

However, written evidence of termination is not required where the only services to be performed for a prospective client are those necessary to the preparation and the actual preparation of tax returns where the tax returns, with or without accompanying journal entries are the only documents to be provided or intermitted and nonrecurring management consulting services and studies.

A practitioner may furnish a proposal including a basis of fee to an existing client. For the purpose of this rule, a client will be considered existing for the same service until the practitioner receives written notice from the client terminating his services or advising as to the retention of another person or entity or until the practitioner has knowledge that another practitioner has been retained to perform the same service. An existing client's request for proposals from other practitioners will not, without other evidence of termination, be considered notice of termination.

3. If a client of another certified public accountant, public accountant, or firm thereof, requests a practitioner to provide professional advice on accounting or auditing matters in connection with an expression of opinion on financial statements, the practitioner may provide such professional advice provided that he must first consult with the other certified public accountant, public accountant, or firm thereof, to ascertain that the practitioner is aware of all of the available relevant facts.

4. A practitioner who receives an engagement for services by referral from another certified public accountant, public accountant, or firm thereof, shall not accept the client's request to extend his service beyond the specific engagement without first notifying the referring accountant, nor shall he seek to obtain any additional engagement from the client.

21A-7.01 Acts Discreditable
21A-7.02 Solicitation and Advertising
21A-7.03 Commissions
21A-7.04 Incompatible Occupations
21A-7.05 Bidding
21A-7.06 Conduct of Other Business
21A-7.07 Use of Names in Other Businesses
21A-7.08 Responsibility for Other Persons
21A-7.09 Former Government Employees

21A-7.01 Acts Discreditable

A certified public accountant or public accountant shall not commit an act discreditable to the profession.

General Authority 473.04 F.S.; Law Implemented 473.04 F.S.

21A-7.02 Solicitation and Advertising

A Florida practitioner or an out-of-state practitioner shall not in this state, or outside this state when the effect is to accomplish within this state that which is prohibited within this state, seek to obtain clients by solicitation. Advertising is a form of solicitation and is prohibited. Moreover:

1. No Florida practitioner, nor any of his employees, shall hold memberships in associations of specific industries or regularly attend meetings of such associations unless such memberships or attendance of meetings is unrelated to his practice of public accounting. Florida practitioners shall provide the Board such information as it may, from time to time, require for the enforcement of this rule.

2. No out-of-state practitioner nor any of his employees, practicing public accounting in Florida under Sections 473.131 or 473.241, F.S., shall hold memberships in associations of specific industries domiciled in this State or regularly attend meetings of such associations unless such memberships or attendance at such meetings is unrelated to his practice of public accounting in this State. Out-of-state practitioners practicing public accounting in Florida under Sections 473.131 or 473.241, F.S., shall provide the Board such information as it may, from time to time, require for the enforcement of this rule.

3. The term "associations of specific industries" as used in Section 473.291(5), F.S., and in this rule shall not be held and construed to include: (a) Chambers of Commerce or Junior Chambers of Commerce; (b) Service clubs; (c) Professional associations, memberships which require the person to be a duly licensed member of the profession; (d) the National Association of Accountants or the American Accounting Association; or (e) other associations directly related to the public accounting profession in general.

4. Publicly advertising professional attainments or services as used in Section 473.291(4), F.S., shall be held and construed to include:

(a) The publication in a newspaper, magazine or similar medium of an announcement or what is technically known as a card;

(b) The listing in a directory of anything other than the name, title, address and telephone number of the person, partnership or professional service corporation. A listing shall not appear in a box, or other form of display or in a type or style which differentiates it from other listings in the same directory. Listing of the same name in more than one place in a classified directory is prohibited.

5. Help Wanted Advertisements. A practitioner shall not include his name in help-wanted or situations-wanted display advertising on his own behalf or that of others in any publication. In display advertising, the use of a telephone number, address, or newspaper box number is permissible.

In classified advertisements other than display, the practitioner's name should not appear in boldface type, capital letters or in any other manner which tends to distinguish the name from the body of the advertisement.

6. Firm Publications. Newsletters, bulletins, house organs, recruiting brochures and other literature prepared and distributed by a firm for the information of its staff and clients serve a useful purpose. The distribution of such material outside the firm must be properly controlled and should be restricted to clients and individuals, such as lawyers and bankers, with whom professional contacts are maintained. Copies may also be supplied to job applicants, to students considering employment interviews, to nonclients who specifically request them and to educators.

If requests for multiple copies are received and granted, the practitioner and his firm are responsible for the distribution by the party to whom they are issued.

No firm publication should contain comments that are derogatory to other firms. In addition, if it is likely that non-clients or the general public will have access to the material, care must be exercised not to include aggrandizing statements.

7. Newsletters and Publications Prepared by Others. A practitioner may permit newsletters, tax booklets or similar publications to be imprinted with his firm's name if they have not been prepared by his firm provided the outside author or publisher is clearly indicated. The firm's name should not be imprinted more prominently than the authorship or publisher credit. Such imprinting should read substantially as follows:

"We believe this bulletin/material, prepared outside our firm by author/publisher, would be of interest to you.

(Firm name)"

8. Responsibility for Publisher's Promotional Efforts. It is the responsibility of a practitioner to see that the publisher or others who promote distribution of his writing observe the boundaries of professional dignity and make no claims that are not truthful and in good taste. The promotion may indicate the author's background including, for example, his education, professional society affiliation and the name of his firm, the title of his position and principal activities therein. Subjective designations or statements which proclaim the author as an expert in any specialty may not be used. Repetition of credits in a series of articles in the public press could be construed to be a violation of F.S. 473.291(4).

9. Information to Media. A practitioner shall not directly or indirectly cultivate publicity which advertises his or his firm's professional attainments or services. He may respond factually if approached by the press for information concerning his firm, but he should not use press inquiries as a means of aggrandizing himself or his firm or of advertising professional attainments or services. When interviewed by a writer or reporter, he is charged with the knowledge that he cannot control the journalistic use of any information he may give and should notify the reporter of the limitations imposed by professional ethics. A practitioner may give information to the reporter or writer about his firm, such as its size, number of partners and employees, location, etc. He should not make statements to the writer or reporter as to comparative size with other firms or other statements that would tend to aggrandize his firm at the expense of other professionals.

Technical research reports and studies on accounting and related business subjects may be distributed to the media provided such material does not contain information about the firm or its members beyond the authorship credits permitted in Rule 7.02(8). Authorship may be credited to individual practitioner(s) or to the firm.

Publicity arising out of the practitioner's involvement in public service activities is not considered advertising provided the publicity is not initiated by the practitioner.

In any material released to the public, the practitioner shall confine himself to statements concerning the subject of the release, shall not promote himself or his firm through self-laudatory statements or accomplishments, or make statements that tend to deprecate other practitioners.

10. Participation in Educational Seminars. Participation by practitioners in programs of educational seminars, either in person or through audiovisual techniques, on matters within the field of competence of CPAs is in the public interest and is encouraged. Such seminars should not be used as a means of soliciting clients. Therefore, certain restraints must be observed to avoid violation of the spirit of Rule 7.02 which prohibits solicitation and advertising. For example, a practitioner or his firm should not:

(1) Send announcements of a seminar to nonclients or invite them to attend. However, educators may be invited to attend to further their education.

(2) Sponsor, or convey the impression that he is sponsoring a seminar which will be attended by nonclients. However, a practitioner or his firm may conduct educational seminars solely for clients and those serving his clients in a professional capacity, such as bankers and lawyers.

In addition, when a seminar is sponsored by others and attended by nonclients, a practitioner or his firm should not:

(1) Solicit the opportunity to appear on the program.

(2) Permit the distribution of publicity relating to the practitioner or his firm in connection with the seminar except as permitted under Rule 7.02(8).

(3) Distribute firm literature which is not directly relevant to a subject being presented on the program by the practitioner or persons connected with his firm.

11. Solicitation of Former Clients. Offers by a practitioner to provide services after a client relationship has been clearly terminated (e.g., by completion of a non-recurring engagement or by direct action of the client) constitute a violation of F.S. 473.291 prohibiting solicitation.

12. Soliciting Work from Other Practitioners. F.S. 473.291 does not prohibit a practitioner from informing other practitioners of his availability to provide them or their clients with professional services. Because advertising comes to the attention of the public, such offers to other practitioners must be made in letter form or by personal contact.

Exception is made for advertising in a professional journal or publication. In such instance, a practitioner must make it clear that work is only being sought from other practitioners. In addition, a box number, rather than name must be used.

General Authority 473.04, F.S.; Law implemented, interpreted or made specific 473.291, F.S.

21A-7.03 Commissions

A practitioner shall not pay a commission to obtain a client, nor shall he accept a commission for a referral to a client of products or services of others. This rule shall not prohibit payments for the purchase of an accounting practice or retirement payments to individuals formerly engaged in the practice of public accounting or payments to their heirs or estates.

(Example 1).

Fees in Payment for Services. Rule 7.03, which prohibits payment of a commission to obtain a client, was adopted to avoid a client's having to pay fees for which he did not receive commensurate services. However, payment of fees to a referring practitioner for professional services to the successor firm or to the client in connection with the engagement is not prohibited.

General Authority 473.04, F.S.; Law implemented, interpreted or made specific 473.04, F.S.

21A-7.04 Incompatible Occupations

Engaging concurrently with the practice of public accounting in any business or occupation inconsistent with the practitioner's responsibilities under Chapter 473, F.S., and Chapter 21A, F.A.C., would constitute involvement in an incompatible occupation, and such involvement is prohibited.

This proscription would apply to any business or occupation which:

(a) detracts from the public image of the profession, as for example, on moral or legal grounds, or involves conduct which would constitute an act discreditable to the profession, or,

(b) impairs the practitioner's independence and objectivity in rendering professional services to his clients, or,

(c) requires extensive personal solicitation or promotional activities which may readily be identified with the practitioner or his public accounting practice.

General Authority 473.04, F.S.; Law implemented, interpreted or made specific 473.04; 473.291, F.S.

21A-7.05 Bidding

(1) A practitioner shall not make a competitive bid for a professional engagement. Competitive bidding for public accounting services is not in the public interest, is a form of solicitation, and is unprofessional.

(2) As used in this rule, "competitive bid" means the submission of an offer to a prospective client, as distinguished from an existing client, or representative thereof, by a practitioner, either orally or in writing, directly or indirectly, as either a prime contractor, a subcontractor, or a subcontractor using a prime contractor as a conduit, to perform a professional engagement for an estimated fee, a fixed fee, or a basis of fee when the surrounding facts and circumstances indicate that another firm, professional service corporation or person will be asked to make an offer, has been asked to make an offer, or has made an offer which has not been rejected, to perform the same professional engagement for an estimated fee, a fixed fee, or basis of fee as defined in this rule. The performance of an engagement for a specific purpose, which engagement by its nature is not expected to recur, does not create an "existing client" relationship.

(3) The term "Subcontractor" as used in this Rule means a subcontractor whose actions, together with the surrounding facts and circumstances, are in such a manner as to make him a party to a competitive bid or bids, either with respect to a specific engagement or as a result of a series of engagements with the same prime contractor, and without regard to whether a subcontract is entered into before or after the bid.

(4) All applications for special permits required by Section 473.131(1), F.S., shall be accompanied by a statement of the applicant, or if it is a partnership or a professional service corporation, by a partner or stockholder of the applicant, to the effect that the current contract for the public accounting services to be performed in Florida was not obtained by competitive bid as defined by this Rule.

(5) No Florida practitioner who is an agent for an out-of-state practitioner as provided in Section 473.241, F.S., shall perform public accounting services in the State, the contract for which was obtained by such out-of-state practitioner, unless he has ascertained with reasonable certainty that the current contract for such services was not obtained by competitive bid as defined by this Rule.

(6) No Florida practitioner who has a permanent or continuing correspondent relationship with an out-of-state practitioner shall perform public accounting services in the State for such out-of-state practitioner, unless he has ascertained with reasonable certainty that the current contract for such services was not obtained by competitive bid as defined by this Rule.

(7) "CPA Competitive Negotiation Rule"

(a) Purpose—To prescribe a manner in which practitioners may participate in a negotiation process to provide professional service to potential consumers of such services allowing the quotation of a basis of fee.

(b) Competitive negotiation

(i) A practitioner may respond to any request for proposal from a person or entity giving qualifications and other factual information excluding any quotation as to basis of fee.

(ii) If a practitioner's proposal in (i) above is the only proposal received or accepted by a person or entity the practitioner may negotiate a basis of fee for that engagement. If a person or entity receives more than one proposal for the same engagement, the person or entity may rank, in order of preference, the practitioners to perform said engagement. The practitioner ranked first may then negotiate a contract with the person or entity giving, among other things, a basis of fee for that engagement. Should the person or entity be unable to negotiate a satisfactory contract with that practitioner, negotiations with that practitioner shall be formally terminated and the person or entity shall then undertake negotiations with the second ranked practitioner. Failing accord with the second ranked practitioner, negotiations shall be terminated and undertaken with the third ranked practitioner, etc. Once negotiations have been undertaken with a subsequent practitioner, a practitioner shall not contract with the requesting person or entity for the same engagement.

(8) A practitioner may ask to be placed on "request for a proposal" mailing list of any agency indicating a desire to receive requests for proposals from said agency giving only the name and mailing address and telephone number. For purposes of this rule, "an agency" means any federal, state, municipality, school district, school board or political subdivision thereof and a "request for proposal" is the request made by an agency for a proposal to provide professional services.

21A-7.07 Use of Names in Other Businesses

This is an indirect means of advertising and solicitation and is unprofessional. The designations "Certified Public Accountant" or "Public Accountant" or the abbreviation "CPA" or "PA" shall not be used in any manner for the promotion or advertisement of any business by such Florida practitioner or out-of-state practitioner.

General Authority 473.04 F.S.; Law Implemented 473.181, 473.291 F.S.

21A-7.09 Former Government Employees

21A-12.03 Criteria for Determining Legality of Correspondent Relationship

Whether a person is an agent or an independent contractor for another depends on the facts and circumstances relating to the formation of the relationship and the carrying on of the work, rather than the denomination attributed to the relationship by the parties. If the facts and circumstances indicate that the purpose of the relationship was or is to enable persons not holders of Florida certificates to carry on a full-time practice of public accounting in this State through a Florida correspondent without complying with the provisions of Section 473.241, F.S., the relationship will be regarded as unlawful. If by the terms of an express agreement a party to a correspondent relationship not holding a Florida certificate is entitled to exercise control over the policies or operations of the Florida correspondent or if in the carrying on of the work the party not holding a Florida certificate does in fact exercise control over the policies and operations of the Florida correspondent, the Florida correspondent will be regarded as an agent rather than as an independent contractor. In determining whether the purpose of the relationship is unlawful and whether the relationship is one of agency or of independent contractor, consideration will be given to the following:

(1) The financial interest, if any, of one correspondent, or some member thereof, in the business or assets of the other.

(2) The financial obligation, if any, by one correspondent, or by one or more members thereof, to the other correspondent, or some one or more members thereof.

(3) The arrangement for compensation for work undertaken by one correspondent for the other or for the other's clients, e.g., whether on a time basis, flat fee basis, percentage basis or otherwise, whether profits or losses are to be shared, etc.

(4) The existence or non-existence of an obligation by either party to forward business to the other.

(5) The frequency of forwarding business by one party to the other and the volume and extent of the business forwarded as bearing upon the possible dependency of one party upon the other.

(6) The existence or non-existence of a partnership relationship between the Florida correspondent or one or more members thereof, and the non-resident correspondent, or one or more members thereof.

(7) All other facts and circumstances bearing upon the purpose of the relationship or the degree of control that either party may exercise or be entitled to exercise over the policies or operations of the other.

General Authority 473.04 F.S., 473.241 F.S. Law Implemented 473.151(4) F.S., 473.241 F.S.

21A-12.04 Notification of Board of Correspondent Relationships

Every Florida practitioner who is presently a party to or who shall hereafter enter into a permanent or continuing correspondent relationship with any out-of-state practitioner shall promptly notify the Board of such relationship and furnish the Board with a copy of the documents evidencing such relationship and, in cases where such relationship is not evidenced by a written agreement, shall furnish the Board with a written statement summarizing the details of the relationship. Every such practitioner shall also furnish the Board a statement of the facts relating to the factors referred to in Rule 21A-12.03(1) thru (7) and such additional information as may be requested by the Board. Every such practitioner shall promptly notify the Board of any modification in the relationship with respect to which previous notice has been given, at the same time furnishing the Board with a copy of the documents evidencing such modification and, in cases wherein modification is not evidenced by writing, shall furnish the Board with a written statement summarizing the details of the modification.

General Authority 473.04 F.S. Law Implemented 473.04 F.S., 473.241 F.S.

21A-12.05 Designation of Relationship

(1) Every Florida practitioner, not using the name of an out-of-state practitioner as provided in Section 473.241, Florida Statutes, but desiring to designate by printed or written words that he is a correspondent of an out-of-state practitioner, shall, in addition to complying with Rule 21A-12.04, promptly notify the Board of his intention of using such designation.

(2) Every Florida practitioner, not using the name of an out-of-state practitioner as provided in Section 473.241, Florida Statutes, but desiring to designate by printed or written words that he is a correspondent of another Florida practitioner, shall promptly notify the Board of his intention of using designation and provide the Board with the name of the Florida practitioner whom he desires to designate as a correspondent and such other information as the Board may require.

(1) Initiation of Investigation

(a) All investigations of possible violations of Chapter 473, F.S. or Chapter 21A, Florida Administrative Code, shall be initiated only with the approval and at the direction of the Board.

(b) An investigation shall be considered a non-adversary executive function to discover or procure evidence as part of the fact finding function of the Board. The Board need not have an administrative complaint, pursuant to F.S. 120.57, submitted or pending to conduct an investigation. The Board may on its own motion or upon written petition of a substantially affected party conduct an investigation. The Board may design forms for the filing of a petition by substantially affected parties requesting the Board to conduct an investigation.

(c) A preliminary review shall be undertaken by the Executive Director of the Board to determine if the petition contains sufficient information to enable the Board to rule upon such petition. The Executive Director may request additional information from both the petitioner and the party named in the petition. A copy of the petition for investigation shall be submitted to the party who is subject to the proposed investigation.

(d) Some petitions for investigations may be of such a nature that they can be disposed of informally by correspondence between the Executive Director of the Board, acting under the Board's instructions, and the involved parties. In such instances, the Board shall make final determination as to whether formal investigation is warranted.

Upon a finding of probable cause, all records relating to an investigation shall become public information unless it is otherwise confidential under Florida law.

(3) Deferral or Suspension of Investigations—An investigation shall not be deferred or suspended without the approval of the Board. The acquittal of a party of an investigation in criminal proceedings shall not be a bar to disciplinary proceedings nor shall the findings, judgment or decree of any court in civil proceedings to which the Board is not a party be binding on the Board. If the party of the investigation by the Board expects to be or is involved in litigation pertaining to financial statements which are part of the matter under investigation, the Board may, at the request of the party under investigation, defer or suspend the investigation until either the applicable statute or limitation has expired (with respect to possible litigation) or the litigation is ended, provided the party of the investigation:

The investigating officer shall not make a recommendation as to probable or no probable cause unless requested by the Board.

(d) Rights of Party of Investigation—In addition to other constitutional or statutory rights, the party of an investigation is not required to submit to an interview with the investigating officer and may, at any point during the investigation, be represented by legal counsel.

A copy of the report along with a notice of informal hearing to consider investigating officer's report shall be forwarded to the party of investigation. Copies of the notice of informal hearing shall be forwarded to the party who submitted the initial petition for the investigation and other substantially affected parties. Such parties shall be given an opportunity to submit statements either personally, by a representative and/or by counsel, verbally or in writing, sworn or unsworn, explaining, refuting or admitting the alleged misconduct and shall also be given an opportunity to be present and address the Board when the report is considered.

(7) Hearing Guidelines to Consider Investigating Officer's Reports—The following guidelines are provided for the efficient and orderly conduct of a hearing to consider reports of investigating officers. Applicants must be Florida residents.

(a) Requests for the foreign language examination shall be submitted on such forms as may be prescribed by the Board.

(b) The aforementioned request shall be submitted following graduation from the continuing education program.

(c) The fifteen requests must be in regard to and for the same examination in the same native language, to be administered on the same date.
